Policy Committee Outlines Problems

The purpose, functioning, and current topics of the Student Educational Policy Committee were outlined in a letter to the students which was publicized at fraternity and sorority meetings and on bulletin boards this week. The committee will meet tomorrow to discuss recommendations and criticisms which it will present at a joint meeting with the faculty committee Monday, May 10.

The letter lists the following matters which the committee has taken under consideration:

1. The advisory system.
   a. Should it be continued as it now exists? Is it basically sound and if not what are its weaknesses and do you have any suggestions for its improvement?
   b. Should it be abandoned and replaced by a professional staff?
   c. Should it incorporate faculty for course guidance and a professional advisor for vocational guidance?
   d. Should it be composed of faculty members and supplemented by student Junior Advisors?
2. What is your opinion concerning the continuation or discontinuation of comprehensive examinations?
3. Do you have any complaints concerning the existing grading system or any suggestions concerning the improvement of the mid-semester schedule of pre-A's?
   a. What is your opinion of the comparative value of papers and pre-

French Diplomat To Speak Tonight On Foreign Scene

Dr. Manfred Simon, LL.D., will speak at 8.15 p.m., tonight in Mead Memorial Chapel on "The Contemporary Scene in Europe." Dr. Simon entered the French Foreign Service before the war. He was legal advisor to General de Gaulle in London and served on the French staff of the War Crimes Commission. He later served with the European Regional office of UNNRA and was loaned in March of this year to work on the United Nations Appeal for Children.

Results of Daily Chapel Poll Compiled; Many Students Unsatisfied At Present

About half of the men and women at Middlebury are not satisfied with the present daily chapel services, it was ascertained as a result of an analysis of the chapel poll conducted last fall, compilation of which has just been completed.

Two hundred ninety-six men out of the 400 who turned in their reports and 273 of the 390 women who reported were dissatisfied but few of these qualified their answer or could agree on the specific reason for their dissatisfaction.

The question of whether the student body favored compulsory chapel was not directly asked in the poll. A space was provided at the end of the questionnaire for additional comments on chapel not covered in direct questions, and it is here that 60 men and 8 women took the opportunity to state such a dissatisfaction. It would have been better had the questionnaire included a direct question on this issue as an integral part of the poll.

The poll was conducted last fall under the joint sponsorship of the Men's and Women's Assemblies. While there is evidence of a great deal of work and care in the compilation of the final report of both the men's and women's colleges, reported separately, the results of the poll, as a whole, are not too satisfactory. Some of the questions asked, such as those relating to faculty and administration attendance at and interest in daily chapel, are not pertinent since chapel is primarily for the student body.

A great majority of students in both the Men's and Women's Colleges found chapel conduct unsatisfactory. However, the sincerity of the students in their answers is to be doubted in view of the following two questions: "Would you be personally interested in an effort to eliminate undue noise and disorder common in the entrance and departure of the student body from daily chapel?" and "Would you be personally interested in an effort to eliminate reading, talking, knitting, joking, whispering and all other forms of disturbance during daily chapel service?" On the first of these, 156 of the 400 men and 187 of the 390 women answered yes. On the second, 240 of the reporting men and 339 of the women indicated yes on their questionnaire. There has been no noticeable implementation of this policy, especially by the men, for these forms of disturbance still prominently exist.

One very interesting item was noted in the answer given to the question: Would you prefer four students per pew, rather than five, remembering that this will mean seating some in the gallery?" The answers indicate that the women like five per pew, while the men are less cozy, and desire only four. The tabulation was, for four in pews, 268 of the reporting men and 175 of the women.

The students indicated an approval of the daily chapel talks by both outside guest speakers and student speakers.

The men and the women disagreed on approval of the present form (i.e., prayers, responsive readings, scripture readings, hymns) of the daily chapel service. Only 124 of the men liked the present form, while 226 of the women were satisfied with the services. In the detailed criticism expressed by those who were not satisfied, thirty items were listed, but

Valedictory

This school year is fast drawing to a close, and with it my reign as editor. Next week the new senior board will be announced—editor-in-chief, managing and sports editors, business and advertising managers.

During the course of the year I have—editorially—stepped on the toes of campus organizations, the administration and the alumni, not maliciously, but in an attempt to correct or bring about certain desired changes. While most of the students, by tradition, skip over this column of the CAMPUS, it is gratifying to note that several improvements have been made through this medium. Gratifying or not, I can honestly say that it is with no regret that I turn over this column next week to the new editor.

However, in this last editorial before stepping down, I would like to deviate from my policy of complaining and summarize the many gains made during the college year. Some came about as a result of this complaining and many more were brought about by you, by the administration, and the alumni and friends of the college.

The first and foremost are the increases in the college plant—the new gym and the Student Union Building. In this respect, the U. S. government would fall under the classification of friend of the college, for both buildings were government property. These half-million dollar gifts were obtained through the efforts of college authorities, and, in the case of the gym, made possible by the gifts of thousands of students, alumni and friends.

The Old Chapel room has been renovated as the gift of two trustees of the college. The Breadloaf Sno-Bowl with its general improvements and its new 50 meter jump is a definite gain for Midd. The addition to the college heating plant is a less glamorous but none the less essential improvement.

These are the important additions to the college facilities. But there have been other and equally important achievements in less material things.

An Alma Mater is about to be chosen as the result of many months of work by Mortar Board. The Student Educational Policy Committee has been created and become active. This committee has great potentialities in making changes you desire in the educational setup of Middlebury.

Several changes have been made in the men's student government to make it a better organization. The position of speaker of Assembly has been merged with that of president of the Men's Undergrad, and the tie-in between proctors and assemblymen has been abolished. There has been relaxation of the over-stringent women's rules, such as the Saturday 12:30 pers.

These are the definite accomplishments of the school year 1947-48. We have not achieved everything we hoped to achieve, and those who are working for the good of the college cannot rest on these laurels alone.

There are new problems to conquer, but for my part I bequeath them to my successor.

Sororities To Aid Men's Finances With A.M.B. Hop

The tables will be turned this Saturday night at the Panhellenic Council's "Pin Point Parade." It's an AMB dance (all men broke), and stags are invited to attend. It's a little late now to start thinking about a date, but—on second thought, if the men can get away with it, why not the women?

"Pin Point Parade" will feature the Black Panther sextet and will be held in the college gym. Since the theme of the dance is inter-sorority, the emblems and colors of the seven sororities on campus will be displayed on the walls of the gym. There will be entertainment during intermission.

Admission is $.90 per couple, and (just to prove that stags are really encouraged), $.60 per stag. Tickets will be on sale in Munroe Hall today and tomorrow.

Rev. Alfred Walton To Speak Sunday

Rev. Alfred Grant Walton, D.D., pastor of the Flatbush-Tompkins Congregational Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., will speak Sunday, May 9, at the junior-senior Vesper service.

Dr. Walton is the author of several books, including "Highways to Happiness" and "Life Is What You Make It." For six years Rev. Walton served as a radio preacher over the coast-to-coast facilities of the National Broadcasting Company, sponsored by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

ballads will be given a modern dancer's rendition by Janet E. McIntosh '50.

The fourth solo, a kinetic expression of "Titania's Dream" by Sibelius, will be developed by Virginia C. Main '49. Joan H. Roessle '48, will complete the program's variety of solos, dancing in tone with the "Russian Cradle Song" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Three duets will also be presented by group members while the larger dances are to be performed by Club and Group dancers. Two members of the faculty, Mary Louise Lee and Erie Volkert, as well as two faculty children, Marion Perkins and Ralph Lee, will also participate in one of the larger works based on Virgil Thompson's "The Plow That Broke the Plain" and choreographed by Miss Roessle.

Letters to the Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is for expression of ideas from readers. letters containing not more than 250 words will be printed.)

To the Editor:

The freshman class of the men's college hereby challenges the sophomore men to a tug-of-war across Porter Pond on May 15.

If the sophomore men wish to concede the victory, please inform the student body of your forfeit in an article in the CAMPUS.

The winners will enjoy the sight of the wallowing vanquished. Will you be wallowing on Junior Weekend?

THE FRESHMAN CLASS.

To the Editor:

I read with regret a letter by F. Bronson Hickcox, Jr., '49 concerning the condition of Middlebury's tennis courts which appeared in last week's CAMPUS. I can well agree with Mr. Hickcox that the courts are in a bad state of disrepair and that it is quite possible that the number of courts is insufficient for the enlarged student body. However, I feel that Mr. Hickcox has made an unnecessary and unfortunate attack on Mr. Allen and Mr. Proctor, trustees of Middlebury College, when he suggested that they would have been susceptible to arguments favoring improvement of the tennis courts rather than the "localized ostentation" represented by the improvements in the Trustees' Room.

The two men, Mr. Allen and Mr. Proctor, owe Middlebury absolutely nothing. Neither is a Middlebury graduate and both are active and successful business men, having many other ways to profitably expend their time and efforts. However, they have given liberally and unselfishly to the general improvement of the college. Mr. Proctor has provided the Dutton Fellowship for many years, and both trustees have contributed generously to the field house and for many other improvements in the college plant. The room was just one additional gift to the college.

I might further add that if, in the future, Mr. Hickcox wishes to wr open letter that he first consult tionary before using words, such used in his recent letter, which will him open to a law suit for the defa of character.

ALLAN E. ROBERTSON

To the Editor:

Before the voting takes place fo new Alma Mater, I would like to pu plug for "Gamaliel Painter's This has been our Alma Mater for years, and rightly so. We want fo representative college song one th distinctly "Middlebury," one whose cate can't be found on any other c (most of the other songs on the sla to be heard for a dime a dozen on campuses throughout the country) that embodies the spirit and traditi our college. Recent Poll Tabulates Student Opinio On Foreign Policy, World Organizati

Opinions on world organization, American foreign policy, and United States freedom were tabulated in a recent poll at Middlebury conducted in the International Relations Club and in the international politics, foreign policy, and contemporary civilization classes.

Part of a world-wide poll sponsored by Time magazine and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Middlebury's poll is to be compared with the American and international poll, the results of which have not yet been released in detail.

Taken shortly after the Czech coup and before the Italian elections the poll's results are somewhat dated, but are suggestive of the trends of student thought. Results were tabulated by C. Leonard Hoag, assistant professor of political science.

Middmen Overwhelm Bates Trackmen 95-40

Victory Avenges Last Year's Loss

IRV MEEKER LEADS PANTHER SCORING

Middlebury's track team made it two victories in as many meets last Saturday as it steamrollered over an outclassed Bates squad for an impressive 95-40 verdict. The Porter Field track was in rather poor shape due to weather conditions, but nevertheless, there was some keen competition in the running events, especially the mile and the 880.

Coach Brown turned his Panthers loose with the purpose of avenging a close 70½-65½ defeat suffered at the hands of the Maine athletes last season, and he succeeded in no doubtful manner. Middlebury piled up a staggering 47-16 lead in the field events and went on in the running department to win a 48-24 advantage that snowed the visitors under.

The Blue and White swept all places in four events, the 100 yd. dash, both hurdle races, and the pole vault, and the first two places in the hammer, high jump, and broad jump.

Irv Meeker led the Panther scoring parade with three individual victories and 15 points. He was ably assisted by Fred Tracke, who garnered 11 markers in the weight department, sprinter Murray Pearlstein, who won both dashes, and Capt. Dix Hemphill, who starred in the pole vault and high jump.

Panther Yachtsmen Win Mass. Regatta

Last Sunday morning in the Charles River Basin, Cambridge, Mass., Middlebury's Sailing Club continued its bid for collegiate recognition by showing its stern to the field to win the N. E. Associate Member Championship Regatta of the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association. As a result, Middlebury has qualified for the N. E. Dinghy Championship of the Coast Guard Academy on May 8 and 9 and the Boston Dinghy Club Cup Regatta May 22 and 23.

Colby furnished the stiffest opposition around the two-mile triangular course, but it was Midd's Bob Bennitt with Kathy Hill and Al Perry with Joan Macklaier who combined their scores to edge Colby by a one point margin.

The colleges represented and their respective scores for the total of five races include Middlebury 47, Colby 46, Bowdoin 43, Amherst 37, and Wesleyan 25.

In winning their first major championship, the Midd sailors returned aboard with a handsome wooden plaque trophy to add to their collection.

During a similar qualifying meet last fall, Middlebury was nosed out by the Boston College Club which has since become a member of the association.

Skidmore Lacrossers To Teach Midd Women

Skidmore College will send two lacrosse teams to Middlebury next Sunday afternoon, May 9, to demonstrate the art of the game for the benefit of Midd's fledgling players. The exhibition will take place on the women's athletic field.

Three Middlebury freshmen who played lacrosse before coming to college will fill in for the Skidmore teams if vacancies arise. They are Carol Heinze, Beth Tracey, and Barb Lukens.

There will be times allotted for the practice and instruction of all women interested in the game.

Middlebury Girls Defeat Skidmore In Tennis Match

Five women tennis players, coached by Miss Diebold, took a trip to Saratoga Springs last Saturday, May 1, and returned that night bearing Skidmore's sunburned scalp on the Midd racket. Despite the odds unofficially given to the highly-touted Skidmore tennis players, the delegation of Midd seniors nosed out the opposition 4-3 after an afternoon of five singles and two doubles matches.

Fighting it out on the well-lined dark clay courts Cam Buzby, Betty Reid, and Jo Sherman brought in three points for the Midd racket swingers in their singles matches. Cam and Betty also won their doubles match to give Midd the edge in the seven-event contest.

Cam, playing Skidmore's first-seeded player, stood the test of a grueling three-hour match and finally vanquished her opponent 4-6, 12-10, 8-6. Betty Reid, second-seeded, knocked off her match in two sets with a 6-2, 6-4 score. Jo Sherman also won her singles 6-2, 6-4.

Bev Boynton and Marilyn Drake went down under the Skidmore attack to the tune of 6-4, 6-0 and 6-3, 6-1, respectively. Bev and Marilyn were also defeated in a doubles match they were unexpectedly called upon to play, 6-3, 6-1.

The Skidmore tennis players have been invited to work through a second afternoon of matches this Sunday when two teams from Saratoga Springs will give a lacrosse demonsfration at Midd, but as yet plans are indefinite.

Committee Tightens Athletic Eligibility

All regularly enrolled undergraduate men may participate in varsity sports after a residence of one semester, except transfers who are eligible after one year's residence, it was stated in new regulations recently accepted by the Faculty Committee on Athletics. This differs from last year's regulation which waived the residence requirement in the cases of entering freshman veterans or transfers from colleges not offering a four-year curriculum.

The regulations regarding participation by students on probation or reported failing during a semester remain unchanged from last year. Those on probation may participate only in home contests when no absence from class is involved and the latter may not participate for the rest of the semester if reported failing in two courses simultaneously.

All candidates for teams must have a physical examination at the beginning of each season and members of teams may not be absent from college exercises for longer than the time specified in the manager's schedule. The Dean of Men has sole charge of excuses granted to team members.

The regulations further state that no athletic contest may be scheduled for a Sunday or during semester examinations. Home contests may not start before 3.30 p.m. except on Saturday afternoons, holidays or by special permission.

Limitations on the number of games to be played in each sport are: varsity football, a total of eight, five away; freshman football, a total of five, three away; varsity cross-country, a total of six, four away; freshman cross-country, a total of four, three away; varsity basketball, a total of sixteen, eight away; freshman basketball, a total of twelve, six away; skiing, a total of seven, six away; hockey, a total of sixteen, eight away; indoor track, a total of four, four away; baseball, a total of sixteen, eight away; track, a total of six, four away; tennis, a total of ten, six away; golf, a total of ten, six away; sailing, a total of four, four away. Exceptions may be granted and other games may be scheduled during vacations. Schedules are subject to the approval of the Faculty Committee on Athletics.

Over the Wall

By Tom Ginty

Taking up the intramural load where the absence of track activity produced a slack, the softball schedule furnished the lone note of interest during the past week. The long-awaited mile relay final between ASP and the Sig Eps has been postponed and the softball doubleheader on Tuesday afternoon was the sole local event.

The first showed the Dekes coming out on top over the Chipsies by a 10-5 count. Tom Whalen pitched the distance for DKE, allowing the scant total of seven hits while Fred Kania was pummeled a trifle more solidly as the victors racked their second in a row. Andy Anderson of the winners pounded a homer with Fred Kania producing one of the same in a losing cause. However, Deke Benny DeSalvo was the batting star of the fracas, punching four safeties in five times at bat.

The other game produced a 19-16 win for the ATOs against the Alpha Sigs. Both Dick Tuttle, the hurler for ATO, and Dave Hunt, who slings for ASP, were pounded freely all the way. ATO uncovered the fielding sensation of the day as Al Jakeman made some eye-opening plays around third base. The game also saw a number of extra-base hits, but ATO Bob Outman and Bill Miller of the Alpha Sig team were the chief figures since they stroked a pair of four-baggers each. Miller, incidently, is in the midst of a red hot batting streak. He has propelled three balls out of the park in the first two encounters thus far this year.

In the way of intramural track items, there can be no accurate prediction of the outcome of the aforementioned mile relay final between SPE and ASP coming up next week. It should be close as both teams have fine runners and the Alpha Sigs showed themselves as capable of running a good race in the qualifying round against Theta Chi. In the future events, the Chi Psis will bear watching, too, as they have unveiled a new miler, Jim Ross, who is being acclaimed by all as a star of great possibilities.

R. BOUCHER ELECTED 1948 GOLF CAPTAIN

Bob Boucher was elected captain of the 1948 Middlebury golf team Monday by last year's letter winners. Bob, a junior, is from Waterbury, Conn., and has been a valuable member of the golf squad for the past two years. He entered Midd in February, 1946, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and is the president of the Interfraternity Council. Bob and his brother Rollie give the Panthers a potent golf course brother act, by playing number three and four respectively.

Panther Golfers Defeat Union 6-4 In Season Opener

The Middlebury golfers opened their 1948 season last Tuesday by downing the Union college linksmen 6-3 on the Schenectady school's home course. Captain Bob Boucher and his brother Rollie, playing the number three and four positions respectively, picked up three of Midd's points. Ray Nihan, playing number five with Dick Westin number six, scored the remaining three markers. Don Bates and Doc Drohat held down number one and two spots respectively and were beaten. This gave the Garnet golfers their three points.

Last year Middlebury scored a 7½-11½ verdict over the Union divot diggers.

Wednesday the team played RPI on the Engineers' course in Troy, N. Y. As this issue went to press the results had not been received but last season the Middmen scored an impressive 7-2 victory over the men from Troy.

Thursday in the first home match for the Panthers, Williams College provided the opposition on the Burlington Country Club course. Last year Midd downed the Ephmen twice, once at Williamstown and once on the Rutland Country Club course. Williams is much improved this year and should provide some of the stiffest dual-meet competition of the season. Bucky Marchese, brother of Midd's Jimmy, is one of the William stalwarts and a meeting of these two fine golfers should provide an interesting touch of color.

Friday the golfers oppose Colby on the Burlington course. All student spectators are welcomed.

Midd Netmen Open Season At Union

The 1948 edition of Middlebury's tennis team was formally unveiled yesterday on the Union College courts. As the Campus went to press the results of the matches with the Schenectady school were still unknown.

With a few exceptions the team that faced the Garnet netmen was the same one that triumphed in last year's encounter by the narrow margin of 5-4. In the number one singles spot was Captain Bob Parker while last year's captain, Al Rice, held down the number two position. The number three and four singles positions were held down by Felix Rohatyn and Don Axinn respectively, with the last two being played by Ad Merrick and Hal Richardson. In the doubles play Parker and Rice and Rohatyn and Merrick were teamed together in the two top positions. The remaining team was made up of Scott Buzby, a freshman newcomer, and Richardson.

Middlebury tennis enthusiasts will have their first opportunity to view their team in action tomorrow when the Panthers play host to Colby.

St. Michael's Halted For First Midd Win

3 GAMES DROPPED TO BOSTON TEAMS

It was opening day at Porter Field Tuesday afternoon. President Stratton wasn't on hand to throw out the first ball, but Coach Ciccolella had Ferdy Vetare throw a few instead. The diminutive, bespectacled right hander set the St. Michael's College Purple Knights in short order as he slapped the whitewash brush on them to take a neat 4-0 victory. He spread six hits over the route and only in the ninth inning did he face more than four men.

Midd scored in the third when Valentine singled, Buonerba sacrificed him to second and Kailey doubled down the left field line. In the eighth Midd scored three tallies on singles by Corbisiero and Valentine, a sacrifice by Buonerba, Mulcahy's fly, and singles by Vetare and Barquin.

Last Thursday Middlebury's baseball team traveled to Boston to open its season against an undefeated Tufts nine. Tufts edged the Panthers 6-5 in a closely fought contest lasting ten innings before Tufts pushed over the deciding tally.

Though the Panthers got fourteen hits off Niles, Tufts ace moundsman, he was still around at the finish and received credit for the win.

Ferdie Vetare started for Middlebury and lasted until the ninth when he was lifted for a pinch hitter. Paul Thompson, the losing pitcher, came on in the tenth, struck out the first man, but hit a batsman, and gave up a walk and a single which pushed across the winning run.

Tufts got eleven hits off the servings of Vetare and Thompson, and bunched them at the right time. In the third frame they scored three runs on five singles and a walk. Minot hit for the circuit in the fourth frame, and Tufts added another run in the fifth. Midd's first score came in the fifth when Barquin connected for a homer to his favorite spot in right center field. Mike Hunt's single drove in Midd's second tally in the eighth frame, and singles by Mulcahy, Neuberger, Farrell, and Corbisiero, coupled with Walt Maurer's stroll accounted for Middlebury's ninth inning three-run rally which tied the score and sent the game into extra innings.

After dropping a hard fought 6-5 extra-inning decision to Tufts the day previous, Middlebury's baseball fortunes took a nose dive last Friday in the encounter with Boston University. Taking advantage of every opportunity that presented itself, the B. U. nine downed the hapless Panthers by a 13-2 score.

The main cause of the Panthers' downfall lay in pitching wildeness and slipshod fielding. With Middlebury owning a 2-0 lead in the second inning, Big Jim Newman suddenly found himself unable to locate the plate. Before Bill McKinley could get in and get the side retired, B. U. had a 3-2 lead, a lead they never relinquished. Although McKinley hurled

The Middlebury nine's losing streak was brought to three straight last Saturday when they dropped a heartbreaker to Harvard by a score of 8-5.

Lefthander Bill Confrey was coasting along with a comfortable 5-1 lead when the Crimson scored seven times in the eighth inning to come out on top. Harvard capitalized on four hits, a walk, and two Panther miscues as eleven men trooped to the plate in that inning.

College Debaters Make N. Y. Junket; Compete For Prize

Last week in a trip to New York City five members of the Middlebury debating team met with teams from four colleges in the New York area. Members who represented Middlebury were John M. Hale '48, Constantine M. Broutsas '49, Charles A. James '49, Philip G. Hull '49, and Roswell T. Edwards '49.

In the debate with City College of New York, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Hull took the affirmative stand for Middlebury on the question, "Resolved, That a federal world government should be established."

Meeting with the New York University team, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Hull again argued the affirmative in another question, "Resolved: That the British labor government has justified its tenure of office."

The other two debates were with Brooklyn College and Columbia University. Mr. Hale and Mr. James argued negatively against the Brooklyn team on, "Resolved: That there should be compulsory arbitration of labor disputes," and Mr. James and Mr. Broutsas took the negative stand against the Columbia debaters on the British labor government question.

The four debates were non-decision.

Tuesday evening of this week the Edwin Winship Lawrence prize debate with University of Vermont was held in Munroe 303. The question was, "Resolved: That Henry Wallace is deserving of widespread popular support for the presidency." Mr. Hull and Debora E. Nye '50 defended the question for Middlebury.

Civilian Air Patrol Unit Formed Here

In conjunction with the reorganization of the Civilian Air Patrol all over the United States, under the auspices of the Army Air Force, a Middlebury flight has been formed within the 106th Squadron of the Vermont wing of the C.A.P. Prof. Benjamin F. Wissler has been appointed captain of the 106th which includes Brandon and Bristol flights in addition to the unit being organized at Middlebury.

The revitalized C.A.P. seeks to promote civilian flying and serves as a national defense measure. The duties of the Middlebury flight will consist of forest fire patrols, air search and rescue, deer and beaver survey, and C.A.P. pilot training.

John H. Burckes '50 and Daniel T. Hedden '49 outlined the training program of the Middlebury flight at an organizational meeting last Friday. A radio control station is being set up and courses in radio communication will be offered to students interested in joining the C.A.P. but not wishing to engage in the piloting or observing activities of the organization.

Meteorology, navigation, aircraft identification, engines and other courses will be given at the request of those joining. It was emphasized that no experience is necessary to become a member of the Middlebury group.

PROBLEMS LISTED BY POLICY GROUP

A's? Should there be more or assigned?

The committee will welcome all ideas either on these or any other subject worthy of consideration. Criticisms or suggestions "should be outlined or written out in a short statement and handed to one of the committee members so that they may be considered. Statements should be signed so that if further information is thought necessary the student may again be consulted."

Recommendations have been made by the faculty committee for the improvement of the present advisory system with a long-range system is being decided upon. The student committee suggests that faculty advisors be supplied with a course card for each advisee which would list requirements for the student's major designating if the courses were in class B or class C. The card would contain a check list distinguishing the courses the student has taken, from the courses he must take for his major.

The Panther batsmen could get only five hits off the offerings of Godin, Harvard's effective righthander, and Gunder and Hymans, who relieved late in the game. Eleven Middmen went down swinging before the slants of the Crimson chuckers.

Committee Reviews Calendar Changes For Coming Year

A recommendation will be given to the calendar committee to have college classes begin Wednesday, September 22 instead of Friday, September 24 in order to allow one free day between the end of classes and commencement of exams during the February and June examination periods, Jordon R. Scobie, registrar, announced at a Student Life meeting, Thursday, April 29.

Mr. Scobie, explaining the setting up of the college calendar, outlined the difficulties facing the calendar committee. First the college calendar must meet the New York State requirement for professional workers — that of having 15 weeks, 45 hours, of class work per term. Since this requirement is just met in the present outline for next year's calendar, college would have to open two days earlier in order to allow a free day before each exam period.

Other limitations include planning times for special college holidays, placing spring recess approximately mid-way in the second term, beginning college fairly late in fall and ending early enough in spring to allow for summer work, and allowing sufficient time for examination periods.

At the faculty meeting, April 20, suggestion was made to have 12-day examination periods so that all sections of a course could be tested at one time. However in order to have longer exam periods and still meet the New York requirements, vacation periods would have to be shortened or more days added to the school year in the spring and fall. Also a greater number of college days would necessitate a rise in tuition and rent rates.

Another suggestion made was that of planning spring vacation to include two weekends. However this question is taken care of in the calendar already outlined for 1948-49. Spring vacation begins Saturday, April 2 and ends Tuesday, April 12.

Beers Announces New Requirements

The division of humanities has established a field of planned study to be followed by members of the class of 1951 and subsequent classes who elect to do their major work in any of the departments included within the division—American literature, English and drama, fine arts, music, religion and philosophy. The plan has been developed in an effort to offer somewhat more of a common background to students who plan to carry their major work in the humanities and involves a two fold objective—broad work in general basic courses within the division and concentrated work in a specific department.

The field of study includes the following six general courses: (1) American literature 21; (2) English 22.1 and 23.2 or English 31 or English 32; (3) philosophy 23; (4) English 33 or English 34 or a literature course in a foreign language; and (5-6) two courses from fine arts 25, music 23, and drama 45. Each student must complete the required courses in his major field of study as well as those in the new field of planned study.

As the plan develops, the members of the humanities division staff plan to make efforts to integrate the work of the general field of study with the fields of concentration not only in regular class work but also by means of small group discussions and informal student-faculty meetings.

ASSEMBLY MAKES FIVE NOMINATIONS

Additional candidates for the office may qualify by entering petitions signed by a minimum of sixty-eight members of the men's college. Not more than one-half of the signers may be members of the candidates own fraternity. All petitions must be in the hands of the Men's Assembly election committee by 6.00 p.m., Sunday, May 16.

The Assembly has adopted the following election procedure: The week of May 9 has been designated as election week, ending at 10.00 p.m. on May 16. Assembly representatives will conduct balloting among their constituents. Men living off campus will vote immediately after chapel services on Wednesday and Thursday.

Voting will be by preferential ballot. All ballots must be marked in ink and returned in sealed envelopes. Ballots marked in pencil will be declared invalid. The week-long election period is designed to insure maximum participation in the voting. The result of the election will appear in the May 20 issue of the CAMPUS.

Alpha Sigma Psi

First of all, the house would like to thank the DU's for all their hospitality at their dance Saturday night. Perhaps the Tri-Delts should also get a round of applause, as it seems as if the brothers were about evenly divided between the DU club and Dog Team.

Hal Parker showed up last week and spent a few days at the college. He arrived just in time to be present at the initiation ceremonies for Sandy Bowser, now a full member of Alpha Sigma Psi.

Another big social event was enjoyed by some of the boys including Tom Mariner, Pete Knight, Dooley Pollack, Jim McCormack, and also Giff Eager. The fellows had a pretty good time in Boston last Saturday as guests of Barrie Kniffin of Wheelock. Even the gendarmes couldn't dampen the highly spirited young alcoh—er, athletes from Midd.

Alpha Tau Omega

The house is running out of pins. This week Dick Metcalf gave his to Rosemarie Hermann. And while we are on the subject, about twenty "gentlemen songsters" conducted an extended eight-stop serenading trip last week, represented several months' accumulation of dropped pins. But enough about pins.

Saturday night a group from the house went on a hayride with their bonny damsels. Mr. Rogers and his wife accompanied as chaperones. All enjoyed themselves except Mr. Harris' horses who thought pulling some two tons was no joke.

Otherwise there just ain't much to say. And when there isn't much to say, there's no sense in saying something you haven't got to talk about. So the best thing to do is not to say it.

Chi Psi

After spring cleaning last week-end, we thought the Lodge was pretty well set for a while. But Saturday, just before the shower run, the bottom fell out of the furnace and left us all out in the cold (water).

One of the hindrances to the cleaning was a blowout in the form of a beer party the night before—not an unwelcome hindrance.

One of the old alum, Bob Walker '47, has moved back to the Lodge temporarily. Bob plans on being with us until the end of the semester.

Our intelligence service has it that Barb Fairbanks is now sporting a rock from Al Rice. It looks well on Barbara, but then for our money she always does look swell.

Ed (Spic) Kruger is our new fraternity visitor. We know one Alpha where he's going to have a rough time next year . . .

Note to the KKG's: we call it a badge and NOT A PIN.

Delta Kappa Epsilon

The house is wondering who it was that went to all the trouble and expense in order to "special deliver" a box of cut Middlebury grass (from the cemetery?) to Paul Skudder in remembrance of May Day. The enclosed card read something like this: "For you, 'cause you like it so much!"

Spring house cleaning last week brought the brothers out in force if only to do justice to Mom's fine breakfast. We're getting soft though, for the boys didn't turn out 'til 7.00 a.m. Thanks to the women's campus for the assistance. 'Twas the first time a woman ever gave our stones the brush-off.

We wish to announce the Chambers Plan for world peace. See J. B. for elaboration on some of its finer points.

Trimmer had a big week-end, and Whalen was seen in chapel.

Delta Upsilon

Without telling the brothers, Gil Myrick slipped out to Minnesota over vacation and married Peg Colton of Montpelier. Congratulations to Moose and also to Bob, "the claw" Bigelow, who released his pin to his girl at home.

Spring cleaning was a clean sweep all the way from Don Hammerberg in the coal bin to John Allen on the roof. Missing from the early morning get-together was Seab Short who was being appendectomized. Everything came out all right but nevertheless the waiting shift tried to hold funeral services.

As a beginning step in the post-war athletic facilities expansion which will eventually include five tennis courts and a swimming pool, Cliff Forbush has begun work on a horse shoe pit. Just before vacation the Frisbie season was officially opened by retiring president Joe Fuchs who tossed out the first Fris.

Kappa Delta Rho

On Sunday of the Middlebury Conference we were lucky enough to have Rabbi Reichert over for dinner. The crew was most interested to hear him tell his own fraternity experiences. No question, the Doc is a terrific guy.

Caution—please do not read Pin-Points next week. In the matter of the late KDR—Alphi Xi softball game . . . well I shudder to think of the inevitable crowing. "Their rules," we agreed—mumble, mumble, mumble . . .

Here's hoping everyone was able to see "Tomorrow I May Be Art Kelly," (or something) which he both wrote and co-starred in.

Well Saturday was the KDR Rodeo, (howdy pardner) complete with a (water) pistol packing mama. Ginny Kerochan made a very lovely Queen of the Rodeo, and the evening was climaxed when the crowd joined in on the old time favorites, accompanied by Texas Dan Baker and his singing guitar.

Hallelujah, the new rugs have arrived and make the lounge look young again.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sunday is dedicated to rest so while we rested we had spring house cleaning which commenced at 6.00 a.m. Shahan couldn't come, he had a big week-end . . . Several of the boys who get sweaty and gritty ever so often (they're known as athletes) were rewarded with pretty blue "M" sweaters. Don Henderson hasn't had his off since he got it but I guess that is alright since Tom Whalen (a member of a rival association, but I promised I'd mention him) pitches softball in his.

In a more serious vein, plans are in progress for the belated spring formal which is due to come off May 29. The principal theme will be Hawaiian with Chief Bond and sons in charge. Leis, are being flown in by air express for the ladies. Shahan refuses to pay the postal rate so he is swimming for his, flowers that is. Bring your own coconuts and dates. And this is how it looks from the white house.

Theta Chi

When they asked me to write this column, the agreement was that I could say what I pleased without being subjected to public castigation. One more Joe Miller crack from the DDT sorority and they're all going to the county clink for libel and slander.

There isn't any news from Theta Chi this week because what happened to Joe Hall, Robert Fuller and Henry George last Saturday night would look better on the front page of the Daily News and what happened to Larson, Ellison, and Kofoed up in Canada wouldn't even get in the Daily News. They wouldn't print it!

There was a party at the Theta Chi house five o'clock Sunday morning; the man who played the trumpet at the party was either a refugee from the Black Panthers or the bugler over at Ft. Ticonderoga.

Chapel Poll

the Roman Catholics are favored by the administration—5 men, 19 women.

Some students gave their imaginations free reign on this. Some of the comments, none of which received the attention of more than five people, were: compulsory chapel violates the U. S. constitution, Jews are discriminated against by compulsory chapel, we need entertainment in chapel, separate services should be given for the different denominations, chapel is too religious, resigned to the situation, and there should be no regular seating plan.

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"Chesterfield is my brand. I've been smoking them for about 16 years. I like them because they're mild and really satisfy. I know the kind of tobacco that's in them . . . it's the best.

"Chesterfield buys the best grades of tobacco. It's mild, light, ripe, sweet-smoking tobacco. They pay the highest prices for their tobacco. It's top quality leaf."
